

Length of Course

If prerequisites are met, the course can be completed in three semesters (16 months). In exceptional cases, which include extensive previous Waldorf training and sufficient teaching experience – it may be possible to complete the course in one year.

Tuition

The course fee for the entire programme is 16.000 Euros. There are possibilities of scholarships depending on need.

Interested ?

Please contact:

Phone +49 711-210 94-16

E-Mail waldorfteacher@freie-hochschule-stuttgart.de

Web www.freie-hochschule-stuttgart.de/international-english-masters-en/

Freie Hochschule Stuttgart
Seminar für Waldorfpädagogik
Haußmannstraße 44a
D-70188 Stuttgart
Phone +49 711-210 94-0
Fax +49 711-234 89 13
E-Mail info@freie-hochschule-stuttgart.de
Web www.freie-hochschule-stuttgart.de

Visit us
www.facebook.com/FreieHochschule

Imprint

Editor: Freie Hochschule Stuttgart
Seminar für Waldorfpädagogik
Photos: Charlotte Fischer / Tanja O'Kelly
Editorial: Petra Plützer

3/2018

International English Masters for Waldorf Teachers

Freie Hochschule Stuttgart
SEMINAR FÜR WALDORFPÄDAGOGIK

Learn to Change the World

In September 2019 we are planning our fourth fully accredited International Masters Programme for Waldorf Class and Subject teachers. At the same time, we will celebrate 100 years of Waldorf pedagogy together with the Waldorfschule Uhlandshöhe with whom we share the premises!

Our International Postgraduate Course for class and subject teachers draws people from all over the world. Students from more than twenty different countries represent the global interest in Waldorf education and the growing need for appropriately trained Waldorf teachers throughout the world. It is wonderful and enriching to observe and participate in international relations developing in a Waldorf context here on our campus in Stuttgart.

In a full-time course of studies, core elements of Anthroposophy, pedagogical anthropology, child and adolescent psychology and subject methodology are combined with an intensive artistic training in music, speech, Eurythmy, painting, drawing and sculpting. In conjunction with practical experience gained in a placement and long-term internships, this training thus offers extensive possibilities for a teacher's personal and professional development. The course is a graduate course and is concluded with a Master's Thesis written and presented in English.

If prerequisites are met, the course can be completed in three semesters.

Admission Requirements

A Bachelor's Degree or the equivalent in Education or a field related to a school subject. Many subjects are suitable – please ask us.

Faculty for the International Masters Programme

Iris Taggert

Prof. Dr. Edwin Hübner
Prof. Matthias Jeuken,
Prof. Dr. Holger Kern
Prof. Dr. Peter Loebell

Prof. Dr. Peter Lutzker

Michael Neu

Prof. Stephan Ronner

Prof. Dr. Albrecht Schad

Iris Taggert

Prof. Dr. Tomáš Zdražil

Course Coordinator

Media Pedagogy
Eurythmy Pedagogy
Music
Anthroposophy, Pedagogical Anthropology
Anthroposophy, Pedagogical Anthropology
Physical Education
Music
Zoology
Methodology
Anthroposophy, Pedagogical Anthropology, Methodology

as well as many internationally well-known and leading figures in Waldorf education such as

Christof Wiechert

Florian Osswald

Claus Peter Röh

Dr. Michaela Glöckler

Dr. Martyn Rawson

Christian Breme

Renatus Derbidge

Dr. Peter Guttenhöfer

Dr. Markus Osterrieder

Catherine Bryden

Sarah Kane

Tessa Westlake

Child Development and Child Psychology

Anthroposophy

Anthroposophy

Diagnostics

Anthroposophy, Curriculum

Study of Relations

Botany

Anthroposophy, Methodology

Cultural History

Clowning

Drama

Creative Speech

Expertise in Subject Areas

A further key element of the Master's courses for class teachers is an extensive training in the methodology and didactics of their chosen subject. Currently, studies in teaching Foreign Languages, Handicrafts, Gardening, Physical Education, and Music are possible.

